

What is a One-Page Profile?

A One-Page Profile is the foundation of person-centred support. A One-Page Profile contains key information about an individual's character, gifts and talents, what is important to them, and the best way to support them.

It is good practice for all pupils to have a One-Page Profile and should be created with the child, not for the child.

A One-Page Profile should combine the thoughts of pupil, parent and school.

One-Page Profiles can be used to:

- support learners' learning
- reflect 'pupil voice'
- support transition across the key stages
- provide key information for supply teachers

There are three elements in a One-Page Profile:

- Appreciation: what people like and admire about the learner; their character, gifts and talents.
- What is important to the learner: what matters to the learner, from their perspective?
- How to support the learner: expertise about how to get the best out of the learner, from the perspective of the learner themselves and their family, teachers and other staff.

The aim of a One-Page Profile is to discover what support a learner needs, and to balance this with what is important to the learner.
